

Ulysses Ator, PA-C

Primary Care - Family Medicine

Ulysses Ator, PA-C, is a certified physician assistant (PA-C) who specializes in internal medicine. He is interested in preventive medicine, management of chronic conditions, acute injuries/illnesses, and orthopaedics. He is able to give joint injections.

Ulysses enjoys establishing rapport with his patients to enable a trusting, communicative patient-provider relationship. He takes time to fully comprehend what his patients are going through so that he can help them to return to their most healthy selves. He sees patients ages 16 and older and speaks English.

Ulysses received a bachelor's degree from the University of Pittsburgh and a master's degree in physician assistant studies from Chatham College in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

He is board-certified by the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants (NCCPA). He is a member of the American Academy of Physician Assistants.
