Leveraging her national and international reputation and influence in the field of breast surgical oncology, Dr. Dietz also co-developed Global Breast Hub, the first global platform for gathering and sharing data and best practices to decrease gaps in breast cancer care.

Dr. Dietz serves as chair of the Standards and Accreditation Committee of the National Accreditation Program for Breast Centers (NAPBC), an American College of Surgeon's quality program. She is currently leading the complete rewrite of the standards to be value-based and patient-focused, and to offer NAPBC program members a roadmap to becoming centers of value and excellence.

After receiving her medical degree from Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Dr. Dietz completed a residency and a breast surgery fellowship at Cleveland Clinic in Ohio. She also earned a master's in health care management at Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health in Boston, Massachusetts.

Dr. Dietz's clinical practice is at Wexford Health + Wellness Pavilion and AHN Wexford Hospital.
